PERSONAL

My wish is that all people in our world are able to work based on their talent. Therefore, I support people worldwide in the development and use of their talent for the realization of their noble goals. Based on my own talent 'to put people into motion' I motivate and train them in their strengths and abilities. I support people in their projects and collaboration with others. I have got a large international network. As a visionary and strategic thinker I like to translate my ideas to innovative projects that I can design, manage and bring to a successful end. I am used to being creative and unperturbed by working in sometimes chaotic situations.
